Cartridges, Ammunition,
or just plain “Bullets” ?

Are you a cartridge collector ?
Are you a gun collector who is looking for that mint
Winchester box to go with your High Wall ?
Is Forensics your business ?
Are you in the firearms/ammunition industry ?

Then you should consider joining the International Ammunition Association

Founded in 1955 with a worldwide membership, the International Ammunition Association (IAA) is dedicated to the advancement of knowledge of all types and forms of ammunition. Its 60-page journal is published 6 times/year and is packed with information on ammunition both antique and modern. There are articles by many of the world's leading authorities in the field, news of current production, company histories, book reviews, patents & trademarks, analysis of ammunition development, questions and answers, and classified advertisements.

Recent articles include:

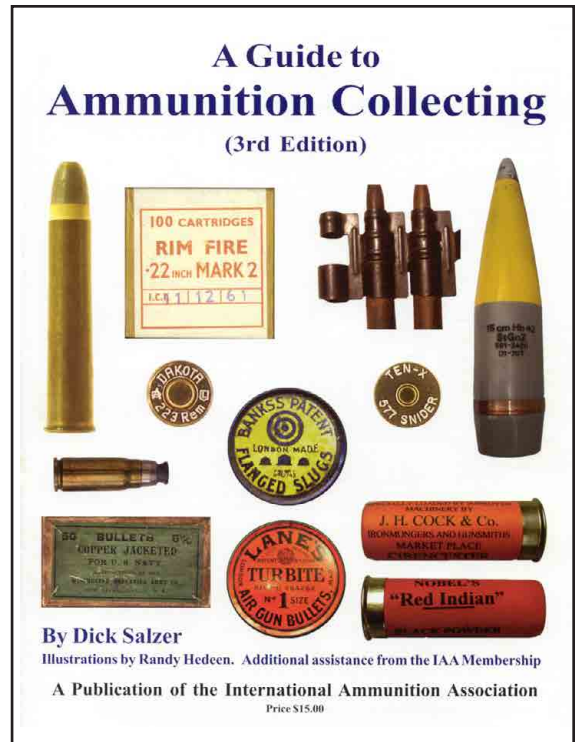

- Tungsten Armor Piercing
- MBA Javette Cartridges
- Australian .303 cartridges
- Western Cartridge Boxes
- 9mm Subsonic - WW2
- 12-gauge Short Shotshells
- British Airgun Pellets
- .458 Webley Carbine
- Siamese 8mm Cartridges
- Russian Pinfire Cartridges
- .69 Early Metallic Ammunition
- 40mm Practice Cartridge
- .58 Rimfire Blanks

The IAA publishes its annual directory showing names, addresses, email addresses and the collecting specialties / research interests of its members.

Annual membership runs from Jan 1 to Dec 31, so if you join during the year you will automatically get the journal issues for the year to date. As part of your new member package you will also receive this 44-page well-illustrated introduction to collecting ammunition. It covers the history of cartridge collecting, the tools used to record, store, catalog and examine cartridges, a bibliography of cartridge-related publications, a comprehensive illustrated glossary of terms, tips on buying at auction, cartridge cleaning and care, etc..

Membership is just $40 USA, $45 Canada/Mexico, and $60 overseas. e-Journal Membership: (includes e-Journal in PDF form downloaded from IAA Website). $25 regardless of location. Note: does not include hardcopy Journal. With a Journal membership the eJournal is only an additional $10. Payable in US funds.
