

International Ammunition Association, Inc.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

The International Ammunition Association is a non-profit corporation whose objectives are to advance all facets of knowledge and interest concerning ammunition of all types and forms, and to provide mediums for the exchange of information and specimens thereof. Formed in 1955, the IAA meets these goals by providing members with a subscription to the bimonthly publication, the International Ammunition Journal; special member discounts to various goods and services, and by informing the membership of current industrial, political and historical trends.

Membership is open to any individual or organization upon completion of the application and the remittance of the appropriate dues. Within six weeks of acceptance, new members will receive a welcome package of information as well as the International Ammunition Journal.
